TASK 7

1. Potentially land-based wind energy covers 6 times more than the electricity consumption is.
2. Energy is spent on production, installation, operation and decommission of the wind turbine, so the 3 months operation is earned back.
3. Some improvements were made to modernize the turbine. For example, it was made quieter and the blade design was changed. 2 sentences instead of 1!

4. The studies showed that the number of killed birds and bats is much lower if compared with human activities such as traffic, hunting, creating power lines and high-rise buildings.
5. The common perception is that wind farms are noisy and bring eyesores.
6. The large number of wind farms is connected with the ambitious goals of the government in the energy industry, so more people are affected to ensure the success.
7. The wind farms construction influences the ecology of undeveloped locations.
8. The construction requires wide, straight, flat roads and large holes concretely filled with steel to secure the work of each giant assembly, cleaning of trees, transformers and power lines.
9. The navigation of dangers is the possible adverse of low-frequency vibration on aquatic life.
10. There are some complaints about wind turbines that many birds and bats were killed and bird migration paths were affected, especially by night. The survey of California Energy Commission in 2004 showed that 4200 birds were killed during the studies.
