Task 3

Just when demographers are ringing alarm bells about overpopulation, Amazon founder Jeff Bezos was asked for his thoughts on humanity living in outer space in a thousand years time. He replied: "I would love to see, you know, a trillion humans living in the Solar system. If we had a trillion humans, we would have at any given time 1,000 Mozarts and 1,000 Einsteins ..."

Space would be full of life and intelligence and energy." He added that he wants to help "build heavy infrastructure that will be used by the space entrepreneurs of future generations... so that ingenious imagination can really be unleashed".

Mr. Bezos' thoughts are accused by fellow multi-billionaire Elon Musk, owner of X (formerly known as Twitter). In 2021, he said of the human race: "We don't want to be warned of those single-planet ~~creatures~~ species". Earlier this year, Mr. Musk warned that "population collapse due to low birth rates is a much bigger risk to civilization than global warming... mark these words". Mr. Bezos conceives of people living in giant space stations. He said most inhabitants of these would visit Earth for weekends. He envisions our planet returning to its environment, as factories would be built in space. He said they would exploit resources on the Moon or on asteroids instead of using up Earth's.

Task 9.

It was a regular, sunny day. Me and my friend George were casually playing videogames together. Although we were losing, I was still in a good mood. I look at the screen. George has just logged off mid-game. I was kind of confused. "Well, I guess his Internet has dropped. Let me call him." No one picked up. The moment I had put my cell phone in a pocket the doorbell rang. I peeked through the door slightly - "Oh, George! Here where you are. I thought you were dead! Ha-ha!". But he didn't laugh. He didn't even say a word. He got back from the porch and all he said was "Follow me." Well, we ended up in a forest. "Why did you bring me here?" - I asked. "Don't ask silly questions. You know what to do. Now go find me." My eyes blinked and he was gone. I've spent hours to find him, but it was unsuccessful. It was getting darker. I layed down the ground and whimpered: "Why? What did I do wrong?" Suddenly I heard foot steps. It was ... George. "Now you get it?" - He asked. "NO!" - I shouted. "You owe me 10 bucks. He-he-he."
