- 1) The central character was the boy named Rohan and he was known for his laziness and lack of ambitions
- 2) Rohan's habit that hindered his progress was wasting time
- 3) Rohan was curious after hearing about Mr. Gupta's arrival in the village
- 4) Mr. Gupta was sitting under the large tree when Rohan approached him for guidance
- 5) Mr. Gupta used hourglass to symbolize the importance of time
- 6) The villagers learned under the wisdom of Mr. Gupta just how precious time is and how it's very important to treat it carefully
- 7) The village thrived under their influence because of how Rohan shared his story with the younger people and they learned how to value time as well as other things

8) The story emphasized how success only comes to those who understands the value of time

9) If in the past Rohan didn't mind that he wasted his time, now he is very focused on cherishing every second of it and spend it productively.

10) The ultimate lesson that this story conveyed is that we all need to value time more, as a gift it is

Task 7.

There are a lot of reasons for someone to hate living in a big city. For example: it is very noisy and busy in here. The pollution is very strong and it can be hard to breathe sometimes. The car traffics are very common and it could be very tiring just getting where you want to be, with all the people on your way. Plus, it can be hard to find a job because the competition is very high.

Task 9.

1) museum; 2) desk; 3) education; 4) test

5) homework

Tasks.

Let's look at this diagram, that shows daily activities for teenagers. It is interesting to see, that this diagram focuses on a social network stats, because nowadays teenagers prefer to spend their time scrolling through somebody's feed, than going on a walk. Which is a very drastic change, comparing even to the last decade.

Obviously, it is because many technologies have developed beyond believe and now are heavily intertwined in all of our lives. But it is also because a lot of teenagers prefer to speak with their friends online and do not bother going over to their houses anymore.

Also Facebook has become our main source of connection with a lot of people. We can look at their lives now through their photos and know all the news from their accounts. It is both a blessing and a curse.

I hope that my opinion on this diagram was helpful.
