Task 7.

One of my friends said to me, that she doesn't like to live in a big city. I think, it's a common opinion among the people who have never lived in a big city. They can think so because during their life they lived only in a small town and just didn't expect, how to live in the other place. But when they came to a big city, they realised that it's a big, noisy and crowded place.

Task 8.

Nowadays a lot of teenagers are on social networks. The statistic shows that 37% of teens ~~are~~ send messages to friends every day. I guess, it happens because of the different timetables among the teenagers. A lot of them want to communicate, make new friends, but they simply don't time for it. They ~~come~~ come home almost at night and parents don't allow them hang out with friends because of the darkness outside. So, they go to the social networks like Twitter or Facebook.

⁸
8% of teens scroll Twitter to find new friends, post the photos of themselves, their paintings, hobbies or just their pets. Social Networks help to socialise, to become more confident. It helps to provide teenagers with the opportunity to learn something new.

Task 8.

Not only teens use social networks. 25% of Facebook users are under the age of 10. It means, that everyone like social networks.
