Task 8

New York is one of the most beautiful cities in the world. Time Square is the thrilling street that is full of billboards and unique shops. Also in New York there is National park, where you can feed squerls.

Washington is the capital of the USA. It is not a big city. If we compare ~~their~~ territories, Washington is not even close to Moscow. All authorities' buildings are located there.

Texas is a hometown of cowboys. It is know, that people there are aggressive. A lot of TV shows, where people from Texas can be seen, are known. For example, "The big bang theory". Main character's mom is from Texas. She is kind and religious. However if she needs it, she can be very aggressive. Also, in Texas there are a lot of deserts.

For me Oklahoma symbolizes mystery. A lot of musicians devote their songs to this state. For example, Lana del Rey. A lot of people are used to romantizising this state.

Task 9

"The Day Everything Went Wrong
(But Ended Right)"

It was the worst day of my life but at the end of the day I felt myself relieved. It started in the morning. I had a meet.

I had been defended for murdering a person a month before. You probably immediately start thinking how immoral I am, but let me explain. That day I got a call from a stranger, who told me that my wife was dead. Of course this information affected me. I immediately ran to her. She was laying on the floor in the old building. The floor was full of blood. I saw a shadow in front of me. A man was approaching. He had a weapon on his hand. I realized that he had killed my wife. I was full of aggression. I had a gun with me. I immediately put it away from my jeans and killed him without even talking to him.

After a month I was sitting on the floor in the jail and was waiting a lawyer, who would represent me on the court. He arrived and told me that I was free. Somebody paid a bill to make me leave a jail before the discussion of my case on the court.

I arrived home. My readers, you probably think that it was a time when I felt relief. You are wrong. I suffered. I had betrayed myself one month earlier. I could not forgive myself for what I had done. I knew that I had to be punished. I slept. And that was a time, when I felt relief.

Task 4

In the verdant, old-aged forest, there is residence of Luna, rabbit unlike any others. Mesmerized by night sky, she spends evenings gazing at the stars, dreaming of the cosmical mysteries. Her curiosity is insatiable, differently great from her peers, who prefer forest tranquil life.

At one clear night, Luna embarked on the unexpected journey. Guided by constellations, she ventured beyond the known paths. She was leaped over the streams and navigated through the dense underbrushes, her heart was pounding with excitement. Her adventure took her to the tallest hill in the forest, just as the dawn first light crept over horizon.

There, Luna beheld the sunrise of unimaginable beauty, the kaleidoscope of colors that stirred her soul. This moment of awareness brought profound realization: stars were mesmerizing, but her own world was equally splendid. Luna's story, blended of celestial wonder and earthly beauty, became the endurance legend, which inspires all to appreciate magic of both: distant dreams and ~~the~~ beauty that is close at hand.
