Task 1

- ① The central character was Rohan. He was ~~famous~~^{known} for his laziness.
- ② Rohan was in the habit of wasting time and procrastinating.
- ③ Rohan felt curious about Mr. Gupta.
- ④ Rohan found Mr. Gupta under a tree.
- ⑤ To symbolize the importance of time Mr. Gupta used an hour glass.
- ⑥ Mr. Gupta taught the villagers to set and prioritise goals, manage time effectively and accomplish tasks step by step.
- ⑦ The villagers were happy to know that Rohan had accomplished tasks he had been putting off for years.
- ⑧ We should cherish every moment and take the most of our lives.
- ⑨ Rohan realised that time was a limited resource.
- ⑩ Time is a precious gift that we all need to treasure.

Task 7

Overall, living in a megapolis has its drawbacks. Firstly, it is always noisy there, so you can not fully relax. Secondly, big cities are usually very polluted. Air pollution in cities, the most prominent issue, causes breathing problems and is bad for health in general. And last but not least, the rhythm of life in a big city is extremely fast-paced. Many people can not keep up with it, and, as a result, struggle with mental illnesses.

Task 8

The represented pie chart shows some relevant information about teenagers' daily activities in social networking.

As it can be seen, most teenagers (73%) are involved in social networks. Also, 37% of teens interact with their friends online every day. The rest of the diagram shows teenagers' ~~involvement~~ engagement in various social media applications.

Interestingly, Facebook has a wide appeal among teens, whereas Twitter is not that popular (only 8% teenage users). Approximately one fifth (22%) of adolescents visit Facebook over 10 times per day. Moreover, an average teen has 201 online friends. Finally and most surprisingly, exactly one fourth (25%) Facebook users are under 10 years old.

The pie chart confirms that social media have a profound impact on modern adolescents. Many teenagers prefer spending time on social networks as this activity does not require much effort ~~and concentration~~. Moreover, much content targeted at the youth is being constantly produced. ~~Personally, I believe the actual socialising is more important than digital life.~~

Task 9

- ① Museum
- ② Desk
- ③ ~~School~~ Education
- ④ Test
- ⑤ Homework
