Task 7. If you live in the countryside, you might have difficulties with entertaining yourself. There are often no parks, no shopping malls, no restaurants and so on. Also you might have problems with public transport to the city. Moreover, It takes time to go to the closest town. If all friends of yours live in the city, you can't see them regularly. One more reason to hate living in the countryside is problems of social media usage because of the bad internet connection.

Task 8. Nowadays, many teens spend their free time sleeping, eating, studying, doing sports, playing videogames or using social media.

Everybody needs sleep to raise the energy, but teens usually have lack of sleep because of lots of homework and information they need to learn. Staking good marks, kids forget about sleeping and relaxing at all.

I'm pretty sure that 99 percent of teens has electronics like phones, laptops etc. Everyone can connect their friends online due to the social media. However, it means that teens spend much time texting mates than meeting them in real life. Also they play videogames instead of walking or playing outside.

Teens spend 15 percent of their time eating.

Eating is usually a form of fighting with stress or just the way to run away from school problems and all that jazz to chill. Nowadays, there are lots of cafes and fast food ~~tea~~ restaurants where guys can hang out with friends.

In conclusion, I'd like to add that teens might have much more free time for friends, family and themselves if they spent less time at school.

Task 9. 1) mark

2) canteen

3) backpack
