Task 4.

I hate living in the countryside. The Internet there is very bad and there are many mosquitoes, flies and bees which can bite you badly. It's also dirty there and roads are very bad. Practically all the houses are as old as the hills and there are no modern conveniences like hot water or central heating. Many people there don't know anything about modern stuff and always stare at you because you look different.

Task 8

Nowadays teenagers have a lot of activities to do in their phones, but they shouldn't forget about real life and real activities. Here we have a diagram in which we see the percentage of teenagers' activities.

Of course, practically every teenager has a phone now and 20% of the day they spend online, ~~the~~ using phone, texting friends, maybe relatives, scrolling on social media. 10% of the day teenagers spend playing videogames in their computers or phones.

Talking about real life, teenagers spend 10% of their day doing sports. It's really important because physical activity is good for health. All teenagers study at school and 15% of the day they spend studying and doing homework then. Eating takes 15% of teenagers' day and sleeping, the most important part, takes 30% of the day. It's very important.

To sum up, teenagers' day is like every person's day in the 21st century. Everybody has a phone now and ~~we all look similar~~ our days are similar.
