Task 4

In Verdant, age-old forest, there reside Luna, a rabbit unlike any other. Mesmerized by the night sky, she spends evenings gazing at stars, dreaming of cosmic mysteries. Her curiosity is insatiable, differing greatly from her peers, who prefer the forest's tranquil life.

One clear night, Luna embarks on an unexpected journey. Guided by constellations, she ventures

Beyond known paths. She leaps over streams and navigates through dense underbrush, her heart pounding with excitement. Her adventure takes her to the tallest hill in the forest, just as the first light of dawn creeps over the horizon.

There, Luna beholds a sunrise of unimaginable beauty, a kaleidoscope of colors that stir her soul. This moment of awe brings a profound realization: the stars may be mesmerizing, but her own world is equally splendid. Luna's story, a blend of celestial wonder and earthly beauty, becomes an enduring legend, inspiring all to appreciate the magic of both distant dreams and the beauty close at hand.

Task 8

Utah: Utah gets its name from the Native American tribe; Utah's nickname is "Beehive State".

Texas: People from Texas are called Texans, Texians; The state's capital is Austin.

Ohio: It is a Midwestern state in the Great Lakes region of the United States; Ohio is the 7th most populous and the 34th most extensive of the 50 states of the United States.

Oregon: The origin of the name "Oregon" is uncertain; Oregon sports a fairly unique state flag when compared to other states.

Nevada: Nevada is home to the Mojave Desert, which encompasses a significant portion of its southern region.

Task 9

"The Day Everything Went Wrong"

The morning of the big race was filled with excitement and nerves. As the captain of the school's track team, I had been training tirelessly for months, and today was the day I had been waiting for. The air was thick with anticipation as we all gathered at the starting line.

However, as luck would have it, Murphy's Law seemed to be in effect from the very beginning. Just as the gunshot fired, signaling the start of the race, I stumbled and fell flat on my face. I could feel the eyes of my teammates and spectators on me, their collective gasp echoing in my ears.

Determined not to let this setback define my race, I scrambled to my feet and sprinted after my competitors. But it seemed like everywhere I turned, there was another obstacle waiting for me. My shoelaces somehow managed to untie themselves, forcing me to pause and retie them. Then, I took a ~~wrong~~ wrong turn during the course, making me lose precious seconds.

With every mishap, I felt my dream of winning slipping further away. But I refused to give up. As I finally approached the finish line, my heart sank. The first-place position was already occupied, taken by our school's star athlete. But just as I was about to accept defeat, fate intervened. The athlete ahead of me suddenly stumbled, tripping on a ~~me~~ loose shoelace. In one fluid motion, I surged ahead, crossing the finish line just milliseconds before him.

The crowd erupted in cheers and applause. In that moment, I realized that sometimes, even when everything seems to go wrong, it can still end upright.

Task 3

There has been a spate of muggings in cities across the globe as muggers are focusing on a new item to steal - luxury coats. In recent weeks, people in London, Washington DC and other metropolitan areas have been robbed of their coats at knifepoint. One man in Birmingham in the UK was slashed across his face as thieves made off with his jacket. Criminals are targeting coats that cost as much as $2,200 each. As well as literally stealing the coats off people's backs, thieves are breaking into people's vehicles.

Professor David Wilson, a criminologist at Birmingham City University, warned that the muggings were the start of a new "luxury crime trend". He said the thefts were "worrying".

Professor Wilson warned those with high-end winter jackets to be careful. He said: "I would tell anyone wearing Canada Goose branded jackets to be careful and be aware of your surroundings and who is around you. You have to be vigilant for opportunists who might try to steal them." He added that: "Thieves used to target Rolex watches which go for thousands of pounds and then sell them online."

London Transport spokesperson said: "Canada Goose coats are targeted for robbery. It's a real concern to us because it really impacts the safety of young people on the network." She added that this "acquisitive crime" was "very concerning, intimidating and frightening".
