Moreover the air is usually polluted in big cities and this has an extremely bad impact on my health ~~that's why I prefer living in the countryside~~. So I prefer living in the countryside.

Every fifth teenager logs on to Facebook over 10 times per day, and every fourth Facebook user is ~~younger than ten years~~ under the age of ten. Most of the teens have around 100 Facebook friends. 50

According to the statistics shown in the pie chart, I can assume that social media becomes a part of the everyday life of a teenager. This ~~can~~ can be a result of technological development in the modern society and the increasing amount of affordable technology pieces. Most of the teenagers nowadays have cell phones or computers which give them free access to the internet and social media.
