Task 4 In a vibrant coastal town, Zoe, a young chef with extraordinary talent, thrived. Fascinated by exotic flavors, she dedicated her life to creating dishes and her skills far surpassed those of her traditionalist colleagues.

One brisk morning, Zoe embarked on a spontaneous quest for culinary inspiration. Driven by her passion for unique ingredients, she explored local markets and remote fishing villages. She wandered through bustling bazaars, her senses alight with the array of spices and fresh seafood. Her search brought her to a hidden cove at dawn, just as the fishermen were bringing in their early catch.

There, Zoe discovered rare fish, its flavor unlike anything she had ever tasted. This discovery ignited a burst of creativity: the ocean's bounty was exhilarating, but there were unexpected finds that truly inspired her. Zoe's culinary adventures, blending traditional techniques with avant-garde tastes, soon became legendary, inspiring others to explore and embrace the diverse flavors of the world.

Task 8 Alaska was once a part of the Russian Empire, but was later sold to the USA for around 7 million dollars, which was fairly cheap, even at the time. This was a regrettable decision.

Arizona is one of the warmest states in the USA, with ^{temperatures} ~~temperatures~~ reaching 40°C in summer. It is also home to the Grand Canyon, which is one of the most impressive natural landmarks in the Americas.

California is one of the most expensive states to live in, which is why a decent chunk of the population is homeless. The contrast between celebrities and IT specialists living in mansions and homeless people is jarring.

Florida is a state that is infamous for being home to a wide array of reptiles and insects, a lot of which are fairly dangerous. It is also known for having hurricanes pretty frequently.

Kentucky is a state mostly known for being the home state of Colonel Sanders, the man who established KFC, or Kentucky

Fried Chicken. It is also associated with the country music scene.

Task 3. Just when demographers are ringing alarm bells about our population, Amazon founder Jeff Bezos says we need to populate our solar system. Mister Bezos was asked for his opinion on humanity living in outer space in a thousand years time. He replied: "I would love to see, you know, a trillion humans living in the solar system. If we had a trillion humanstiving, we would have at any given time 1000 Mozarts and 1000 Einsteins. Space would be full of life and intelligence and energy." He added that he wants to help build heavy infrastructure that will be used by space entrepreneurs of future generations so that ingenuity and imagination can really be unleashed.

Elon Musk
Mister Bezos' thoughts are echoed by fellow multi-billionaire, owner of X (formerly known as Twitter). In 2021, he said of the human race: "We don't want to be one of those single-planet species; we want to be a multi planet species." Earlier this year, mister Musk warned that: "Population collapse due to low birth rates is a much bigger risk to civilization than global warming... mark those words." Mister Bezos conceives of people living in distant space stations. He said most inhabitants would visit Earth for vacations. He envisions ~~people~~ our planet returning to its pristine environment as factories would be built in space. He said they would exploit resources on the Moon or on asteroids instead of using up Earth's.

Task 8. This is actually something that happened to a buddy of mine. It was a sunny summer day and she needed to go to a nearby memorial to sing a song. Obviously, she had to look perfect for the occasion. Unfortunately, she didn't have a decent looking dress to wear. Her sister decided to help her out by giving her her own dress. She put a few pins in it to ensure it wouldn't randomly fall off of her body. As they walked towards the memorial, the pins began to fall off one by one. Neither of them noticed this was happening until they stood at the door and the poor girl almost flashed everyone nearby. They didn't know what to do as they hadn't brought any extra pins with them. Thus began their hunt for pins. They ran around the territory asking every woman they saw for their hair pins. They now had a large collection of different hair accessories they had to somehow fix the dress with. Nothing is impossible, but that was pretty close to the limit, especially considering how little time they had. Her sister managed to make everything work, though the dress looked and felt uncomfortable, at least it was on her and not on the floor.
