Task 3.

There has been a spate of mugings in cities across the globe as muges are focusing on a new item to steal - luxury coats. In recent weeks, people in London, Washington DC and other metropolitan areas have been robbed of their coats at knife point. One man in Birmingham in the UK was slapped across his face as thieves made off with his jacket. Criminals are targeting coats that cost as much as $2200 each. As well as literally stealing the coats off people's backs, thieves are breaking into people's vehicles. Professor David Wilson, a criminologist at Birmingham city university, warned that the mugings were the state of a new "luxury crime trend". He said that the thefts were "worrying".

Professor Wilson warned those with high-end jackets to be careful, he said: "I would tell anyone wearing Canada gurs branded jackets to be careful and be aware of your surroundings and who is around you. You have to be vigilant for opportunists who may try to steal them." ~~You have to be vigilant~~ He added that: "Thieves used to target Rolex watches with goal for thousands of pounds and then sell them on line." A London transport speaks person said: "Canada gus coats are targeted for robbery. It's a real concern to us because it really impacts the safety of young people on the network." She added that this "acquisitive crime" was "very concerning, intimidating and frightening."

Task 9.

One awfully dark and rainy morning, ~~an~~ completely ordinary office worker Jonathan Smith woke up in awful mood. He usually started his day with a cup of espresso and his favourite newspaper, but this day was ~~not~~ the same. Jonathan took a look on his clock to realise, that he overslept. For the first time! In 20 years of honest and routine work! This piece of news was more shocking than anything the reporters of his beloved newspaper could ever write. Smith began to get ready for work in a hurry, ^{giving up on} ~~giving up on~~ the idea of his usual morning ritual. ~~then he left~~ Once he left his home, the rain started pouring harder, but Jonathan's wife happened to take the only umbrella they had, so he couldn't help it. ~~But~~ It felt like nothing could make this day worse, but the misfortune thought otherwise. Smith missed his bus and had to go on foot, so he stepped into some puddles while making it to his ~~work~~ office.

Once Jonathan arrived, hardly breathing, he saw his boss. He told him that the start of the shift was delayed due to the bad weather, so Smith came just in time. He also happened to have time for a cup of coffee and morning newspaper, so the day was saved. Smith felt like the rock fell off his shoulders, so he quickly became calm and even delightful.
