Task 7.

A friend of yours may not like a calm lifestyle in the countryside. Maybe she wants to lead a busy lifestyle in a crowded city centre, because she is sick of silent countryside. And I think that there are ^{less} ~~more~~ activities in the ^{city} ~~countryside~~ than in the ^{countryside} ~~city~~ (for example: cinemas, restaurants, parks and so on). So I guess that might be a reason as well. Or she might just hate nature and prefer modern environment.

Task 8

Today's teenagers differ from teenagers from the past, so their daily routine does. It's interesting studying their schedule so today I'm going to analyze the pie chart of their daily activities.

It's not surprising that almost a half of their time (which is 45%) they spend on their necessities. They spend 30% on sleeping ^{which is} ~~as it's~~ essential for teenagers (as it helps growth), and the other 15% on eating. To my mind, it's pretty fair time management for these activities.

The other 55% teenagers spend on actual activities. ^{the} Pie chart presents that they spend the most time of it on studying or doing homework. But I'm not ~~can~~ totally agree with this as it may depend on holiday - studying schedule. Anyways, the other 40% they spend on their hobbies. Teenagers usually do sports, play videogames, spend time online, ~~and~~ communicate ~~with someone~~ via phone in equal percentage. So I would call it "free time" as they can do whatever they want ~~in it~~.

To sum up, I want to say that this daily routine is fine for me.
