Task 7.

While some people dream about moving into big cities, those who already live there ^{know} ~~know~~ that they have their own disadvantages. The main drawback is frequent traffic jams because of which it will take you a lot of time to get anywhere. In addition, enormous number of people results in long queues in shops, airports etc. They are also time-consuming. Moreover, big cities are usually very polluted by cars' exhausts and factories. Pollution can affect people's health.

Task 8

Analyzing the diagram first thing that can be seen is that most teenagers nowadays are on social networks. Modern adolescents and kids can't imagine their lives without it. Social networks has become an essential part of their livings. This is demonstrated on the diagram, as some teens log on to Facebook over 10 times per day. Having possibility to talk to your friends no matter where you are is convenient. Therefore, no wonder that 37% of respondents send messages to friends every day. Nevertheless, talking to people in real life is still better in my opinion. That is why I believe that though average teen has 201 Facebook friends, he hardly know half of them.

In conclusion, I would like to point out that though social networks are really significant for modern world, kids under the age of 10 hardly need it. However, 25% of them have it. Parents should control screen time, as it can affect children's eyesight.
