Task 8

I would like to analyze a pie chart. With the development of new technologies people started spending a lot of time on their phone, especially on their social media. And the reason for it is extremely simple; all personal data, including health, property, bank accounts is located inside our phones, and that's why people can't live without the phone.

As for teenagers, ~~for them~~, social media is a way to get new friends, to get along with someone. ~~That is the~~ The consequence of it is a big percent of teenagers involved in social media.

Usually, teenagers have a lack of attention. They have a low self-esteem. And they try to improve it by creating accounts on Facebook and constantly scrolling the FYP (for you page).

Teenagers try to communicate with their friends every day in order to be in touch and feel needed.

In order to solve these problems teenagers need to understand the value of life and stay happy with it.
