Task 9

Once upon a time John Doe received an order to create a web-page for a certain governmental institution. He was given little time to prepare, nevertheless he bravely undertook the task. John immediately realised the importance of the work he intended to do, so he had gotten some Dutch courage and continued working.

"Wait, I've lost the track of what I'm doing!" - a thought passed through his mind, but Joe was courageous enough to ignore this warning. When Joe felt that he was running low on courage, the deadline came. "I have no idea of what I've just done" - said Joe, clicking "send".

Joe's work came to Jack. Jack was hired to oversee and revise Joe's output. Little did Jack's bosses know, that he had no proper education and ruthlessly lied in his application. Jack ~~barely~~ ^{looked} had barely ~~glanced~~ at Joe's work, ~~clicking "send"~~ sending Joe's work even higher. "Well, I still have no clue what I was looking at".

Long story short, Joe's work was going back and forth from and to different Jacks, eventually coming to the ministry for an approval. "I have no idea what I'm signing" - said the minister, placing their signature.

Apparently, this is how "Gosuslugy" were born.

In a verdant, age-old forest, there was residing Luna ~~the~~ a rabbit, unlike any other. Mesmerized by the night sky, she was spending evenings gazing at stars, ~~and~~ dreaming of ~~the~~ cosmic mysteries. She leaped over streams and navigated through dense underbrush, her heart was pounding with excitement. Her adventure took her to the tallest hill in the forest, just as dawn first lighted creep over horizon.

There, Luna beheld the sunrise of unimaginable beauty, kaleidoscope of colors that stirred her soul. This moment of awe brought profound realization: stars were mesmerize, but her own world was equally splendid. Luna's story, blend of celestial wonder and earthly beauty, became legend, inspiring all to appreciate the magic of both distant dreams and beauty close at hand.
