Task 1

1. Mr. Gupta said that everything starts from small steps and success comes to people who understand value for time. He gave hour glasses - the symbol of time to Rohan.
2. Rohan started ~~to focus~~ ^{to focus} on tasks and understand that time is his only resource.
3. Rohan tried to concentrate, not procrastinate on ~~the~~ important tasks and use his precious time in necessary way.
4. As Rohan grew older he realized the importance of every minute. He understood that days turn into weeks, weeks - into months and months - into years.
5. Rohan's family and friends supported him and he started to spend time with them much more than he did several years ago.
6. Rohan's story inspired the youngest generation. They children and teenagers began to understand importance of time and started transformation in their lives.
7. Mr. Gupta played a pivotal role in transformation because at first it was his advice to Rohan and then Rohan shared it with other people.
8. It's important to appreciate your family and friends and it's impossible to turn back time that you had wasted.
9. Rohan's story inspired countless individuals in a positive way. They started thinking about changes that they want to make in their lives.
10. They started to use every opportunity in their lives and not waste time on silly things.

Task 4

I believe that there are some reasons why my friend hates living in the countryside. Firstly, I would like to say that in the countryside there is no crowd and noise. Life is quiet. It may be boring to live in these conditions for some people. And secondly, there aren't any good opportunities in education because of the small amount of great schools and universities. I think these reasons can explain my friend's opinion.

Task 8

I would like to express my opinion about daily activities for teenagers.

Firstly, our world is changing every day so teenagers activities that were popular ten years ago and nowadays are not the same. In the diagram we can see that teenagers spend 30% of the day on using gadgets. It's as much as on sleeping!

Secondly, teenagers spend only 25% of their day on studying and sports. This is sad.

I think I can give a reason why teenagers spend more time on gadgets than on homework and sports. Majority of all of them is addicted to opinion of other people and this is serious problem.

Somebody made a "trend" on surfing the Internet instead of reading books and teenagers decided to follow it because it was "cool" in their opinion.

To sum up, ~~gadgets is an important part of teenagers life but not in a positive way.~~ I hope people will understand how studying and doing sports are important.
