There has been a spate of muggings in cities across the globe as muggers are focusing on a new ~~target~~ item to steal - luxury coats. In recent weeks, people in London, Washington D.C. and other metropolitan areas have been robbed of their coats at knifepoint. One man in Birmingham in the UK was slashed across his face as thieves made off with his jacket. Criminals are targeting coats that cost as much as $2,200 each. As well as literally ^{stealing} the coats off people's backs, thieves are breaking into people's vehicles. Professor David Wilson, a criminologist at Birmingham City University, warned that the muggings were the start of a new "luxury crime trend". He said the thefts were "worrying".

Professor Wilson warned those with high-end winter jackets to be careful. He said: "I would tell anyone wearing Canada Goose branded jackets to be careful and be aware of your surroundings and who is around you. You have to be vigilant for opportunists who might try to steal them."

He added that: "Thieves used to target Rolex watches which go for thousands of pounds and then sell them online." A London transport spokesperson said: "Canada Goose coats are targeted for robbery. It's a real concern to us because it really impacts the safety of young people on the network." She added that this "acquisitive crime" was "very concerning, intimidating and frightening".

In a verdant, age-old forest, there resided Luna, a rabbit unlike any other. Mesmerized by the night sky, she spent evenings gazing at stars, dreaming of cosmic mysteries. Her curiosity was insatiable, differing greatly from her peers, who preferred the forest's tranquil life.

One clear night, Luna embarked on an unexpected journey. Guided by constellations, she ventured beyond known paths. She leapt over streams and navigated through a dense underbrush, her heart pounding with excitement. Her adventure took her to the tallest hill in the forest just as dawn's first light crept over the horizon.

There, Luna beheld ^{the} sunrise of unimaginable beauty, a kaleidoscope of colors that stirred her soul. This moment of awe brought the profound realization: stars were mesmerizing, but her own world was equally splendid. Luna's story, a blend of celestial wonder and earthly beauty, became an enduring legend, inspiring all to appreciate ^{the} magic of both distant dreams and beauty close at hand.

Being on a long-lasting vacation in Brazil, a country of passionate dancing and boundless happiness, Margaret Irving could not have missed the opportunity to venture to the jungles, a triumph of life on the Earth. Since the very childhood, the girl was obsessed with enigmas of tropical forests: their unexplored trails, unspoilt sights and unseen flora and fauna species always beckoned her.

The sun was in its zenith when Margaret and her jungle guide Roberto entered the forest. Needless to say that the girl was on cloud nine - the incomparable beauty of nature conquered her mind. Having spent the eternity enjoying the forest, Margaret was brought around by a tree branch which became an obstacle on her way. She tripped over it and rolled down a trail right to a fast stream. Margaret fell into its azure water. After some time she managed to stand up and give a brisk look at her reflection: her hair resembled a cacaobus nest and clothes - a jaguar's fur, covered with brown dirty spots. While having a funny trip to a stream, Margaret caught a glimpse of a waterfall. Eventually she got to the waterfall^{and} was met with words "What a flight, birdie!" said by giggling Roberto.
