- Task I.
- 1) Mr. Gupta suggested to think of every passing moment as a wasted opportunity. His advice to Rohan was to set specific goals and prioritize most important tasks to manage time effectively.
 - 2) To begin with, Rohan decided to organize his routine. The young man began to set time limits for certain tasks and eliminated all distractions.
 - 3) As a result of his newfound dedication, Rohan noticed that he finally accomplished tasks that he has been putting off for a long time. The young man was able to freely pursue his passions and discover his talents.
 - 4) As Rohan grew older, he realized that the power of time is not valued by simply accomplishing tasks, but that the most important value of time is the ability to use it to improve relationships with other people and to use it for spending time with loved ones.
 - 5) Rohan was honoured by his village for his remarkable achievements and his wise use of time.
 - 6) Speaking about the impact of Rohan's story on the younger generation, young people came to understand that time is a precious gift that needs to be treasured and used wisely.
 - 7) According to the text, pivotal roles in the transformation of the village belonged to Mr. Gupta's wisdom and Rohan's ability to use his time wisely.
 - 8) The key message that Rohan shared with the younger generation is, in my opinion, to manage time effectively and, most importantly, to use it for being with loved ones.
 - 9) Rohan's story inspired countless individuals in a way that made them appreciate and treasure every passing moment to not feel a sense of regret in the future.
 - 10) As a result of Rohan's story, people started to perceive the concept of time as a gift and as a treasure.

Task 7. To begin with, what could be possible reasons for having country side life? In my opinion, one of the biggest downsides of living in the countryside is a lack of wide-range opportunities for education. That is an important reason to dislike countryside life, since future career and life in general depend on one's education and the quality of it.
Another downside is, also, a lack of diverse facility system (for example, stores and hospitals) and undeveloped roads' state in some areas.

Task 8. To begin with, let's start analyzing the presented diagram, which shows us daily activities for teenagers.

As we can see, sleep takes a third of teenagers' day. I believe it is because sleep is one of the most important aspects of people's life. Thus, getting at least eight hours of sleep daily is necessary for health. Secondly, we can notice that both eating and studying (or doing homework) take fifteen percents of time. Eating is, undoubtedly, as important as sleeping. As for doing homework, it is one of the teenagers' duties to study diligently at school.

Speaking about teenagers' leisure time, we can, unfortunately, see that it mostly consists of playing videogames, being online on social media and texting or talking with friends on the phone. The reason for that is probably teenagers' addiction to the social media.

Thus, doing sports takes, unfortunately, only ten percents of teenagers' daily activities.

Task 4. Thorough, thoughtful, thoughtless, heartless, prompt, knowledgeable, heart-breaking.
