Task 3.

Just when demographers are ringing alarm bells about overpopulation, Amazon founder Jeff Bezos says we need to populate our solar system. Mister Bezos was asked for his thoughts on humanity living in outer space in a 'thousand years' time. He replied: "I would love to see, you know, a trillion humans living in the solar system. If we had a trillion humans, we would have at any given time 1000 Mozarts and 1000 Einsteins... Space would be full of life and intelligence and energy." He added that he wants to help "build heavy infrastructure that will be used by the space entrepreneurs of future generations... so that ingenuity and imagination can really be unleashed."

Mister Bezos' thoughts are echoed by fellow multimillionaire Elon Musk, owner of X (formerly known as Twitter). In 2021, he said of the human race: "We don't want to be one of those single-planet species; we want to be a multi-planet species." Earlier this year, Mister Musk warned that: "population collapse due to low birth rates is a much bigger risk to civilization than global warming... mark these words." Mister Bezos conceives of people living in giant space stations. He said most inhabitants of these would visit Earth for vacations. He envisions our planet returning to its pristine environment, as factories would be built in space. He said they would exploit resources on the moon or on asteroids instead of using up Earth's.

Task 4.

In a vibrant coastal town, Joe, a young chef with an extraordinary talent, thrived. Fascinated by exotic flavors, she dedicated her life to creating innovative dishes, her skills far surpassing those of her traditionalist colleagues.

One brisk morning, Zoe embarked on a spontaneous quest for culinary inspiration. Driven by her passion for unique ingredients, she explored local markets and remote fishing villages. She wandered through bustling bazaars, her senses alight with an array of spices and fresh seafood. Her search brought her to a hiding cove, just as fishermen brought in their early catch.

There, Zoe discovered a rare fish, its flavor unlike anything she had ever tasted. This discovery ignited a burst of creativity: the ocean's bounty was exhilarating, but there were unexpected finds that truly inspired her. Zoe's culinary adventures, blending traditional techniques with avant-garde tastes, soon became legendary, inspiring others to explore and embrace the diverse flavors of the world.

Task 5.

1. Greedflation - inflation caused by a desire to increase commercial profit by making goods significantly more expensive

2. Deinfluencing - exposing the true identity of a renowned person, unraveling their wrongdoings to the public

3. Ultra-Processed - designating that a material is sustainable and has been reused several times, ensuring its ecological safety

4. Nepo baby - a person that literally drowns in the principles of nepotism or is raised under its influence

5. Beige flag - a person's idiosyncratic character trait which neither raises suspicion nor evokes admiration (in contrast with red and green flags)

Task 2.

① Delaware is renowned for being first to proclaim itself a state (hence the nickname "the first State.") That being said, the state boasts several presidents rising to fame, including Washington amongst many others.

② Alaska was famously sold to the US during the reign of Catherine the Great. Afterwards, the territory sparked commercial interest as a literal goldmine, attracting a plethora of workers and other people.

③ Kentucky is, even nowadays, famous worldwide. Who hasn't heard of, say, Kentucky Fried Chicken, or the enthralling Kentucky horse derby? Located to the east of the country, it boasts a balanced climate, both warm and refreshing.

⑤ Massachusetts is most widely known as a part of the ²thirteen Colonies. Moreover, it was the first established colony on ^{the} present-day territory of the US. Nevertheless, it has a history of decimation, related ~~consequently~~ to ~~modern~~ diseases ~~and~~ and natives' opposition.

Task 9.

1 Misadventure turned adventure

Once upon a time, a hairy hare, a slithering snake and a cantankerous cockroach all decided to unwind ~~overburdened~~ Overburdened by the excruciating minutiae of routine existence, ~~they embarked~~ they embarked on a journey into the mysterious forest depths.

²The hairy hare was by far ²the fastest; the snake was the sneakiest, and the cockroach was the craziest. Along the way, as daylight faded away, so did the animals' one-upmanship contest unravel.

²"Witness my grace and elegance, as I traverse the undergrowth... if so you can" hissed the snake with obvious self-aggrandisement.

The hare retaliated even more pompously: "Not to be confined to earth, ~~if~~ even for mere seconds, is a gift more rewarding."

²The cockroach followed suit, performing a series of cut-throat maneuvers. Yet see each other, amidst the ever-increasing greenery, they could not. And soon, they drifted completely apart, unable to disentangle.

All of a sudden, the mischievous endeavour backfired, and they became the laughing stock of nature themselves. Forced to align on the ground level, the hare became humble, the snake subtle, and the cockroach careful. And fortunately, after the impassioned vociferations ceased, the buddies reunited, feeling ecstatic as never before. Thus, they escaped the rat race, awestruck.
