Task 8

Nowadays, a lot of teenagers are on social networks, the diagram shows that there is about

73% of teens. And 37% of them send messages to their friends every day. I think that others prefer communicating with their friends in real life or send them messages rarely. There is only 8% of American teens using Twitter because this social network is too old-fashioned, so I think they prefer use Instagram, YouTube etc. The diagram shows that 22% of teens log on to Facebook over 10 times per day. In my opinion, it happens because they are bored and they surf the Internet all day. Now 25% of Facebook users are under the age of 10¹¹⁵ because a lot of kids have phones¹²⁵. The average teen has 201 Facebook friends, but I think that almost all of them aren't friends, they can be just persons, who they ^{have} known since school.¹⁵⁰
