Big cities is not an ideal place for everybody to live.

Task 8.

Nowadays, we can sure say the IT is an important part of our lives, especially of teens, who often go there for communicating at social networks, as we can see in the diagram. Social media is a great way to communicate, it has a lot of functions such as making friends in one click. The diagram says that an average teen has over two hundred friends on Facebook, which is clear because it's so easy making friends online. ~~Why Facebook is the main platform? It's hard to say for sure, but maybe it is more popular than Twitter because of simple interface.~~ Anyways, the teens who made a ton of friends chat with them everyday, and that's why they need to open Facebook so many times a day. If you have to chat with a friend sharing your interests, ~~there's nothing wrong with it, but that way you're starting to chat less offline.~~ There's no doubt all of these stats will increase with time passed. It isn't a catastrophe, but can ~~be~~^{be} really annoying and not very healthy for teens.
