Task 7

Living in a countryside is not as good as you can imagine. Very often, shopping centers are far away from the countryside, making it harder to reach. Also, if you live in the countryside, you probably know that in winter, you always have to clean the snow out of your territory by yourself. Ofcourse you can always pay for the special services to do that, but it's still harder than not doing it at all.

Task 8

~~In this pie chart I can~~ When I looked at this pie chart, I couldn't help but notice that it takes 30 percent of the whole day for teenagers to sleep. I think that it's alright that teenagers sleep that much, because if they slept less, they would be sleepy all day long, making it harder for them to do basic things like chores. It would also reduce their performance, making it harder for them to study.

Speaking about their spare time, I don't approve that teenagers spend a huge amount of it being online, texting and playing Videogames. In my opinion, they should spend their spare time doing something that is more worthy and more productive. I mean, they can combine business with pleasure by reading some books or watching some science-related videos on Youtube.

I'm also really happy that teenagers spend their time doing some sports, because nowadays there are a lot of people that don't even care about it.
