Task 7

There are various reasons why a friend of mine can't bare living in the countryside. The connection is too bad there. For a person who is used to surfing the Internet can be difficult to live without it. In her village can't also be her ^{peers} ~~peer~~. She tends to hang out with her friends, but if there aren't her mates, she will be bored. All these circumstances prove why she can't stand living in the country.

Task 8

I have just learned the average daily activities for teens using a pie chart. There are 7 categories of activities. They are sleeping, eating, studying, sports, texting, online and videogames.

Sleeping usually takes 30% of teens' activities a day. It's normal because they need to sleep at least 8 hours to get energy. Without sleeping we can develop health problems. So, all these things show why teenagers spend 30% of their day sleeping.

Eating tends to take 15% of teens' time. They are used to having 3 meals a day to receive powers. However, teenagers also have a number of coffee breaks to have a rest. That's why teenagers need about 3 hours to eat.

Studying also takes 15% of teens' time. It can be explained by difficult educational system. Therefore, they have extra classes too to get better marks, for example. So, teenagers have to study for about 3 hours a day.

Sports, texting, online and videogames altogether take 40% of teenagers' time a day. Each aspect equals to 10%. All these hobbies help them improve their bodies and communication skills. These activities also can be a source of meeting new people. That's why the hobbies need to be at least 10 hours a day.

I can say that all these categories are important for teenagers because if they cancel one of it, their lives will become worse and less interesting.
