④ In a verdant, decades-old forest, resides Luna, a rabbit unlike any other. Mesmerized by the night sky, she spent evenings gazing at the stars, dreaming of cosmical mysteries. Her curiosity was insatiable, differing greatly from her peers, who preferred forest's tranquil life.

On one clear night, Luna embarked on an unexpected journey. Guided by constellations, she ventured beyond known paths. She leapt over streams and navigated through dense under^{bush}~~bush~~, her heart pounding with excitement. Her adventure has taken her to the highest hill in the forest, just as dawn's first lights ~~se~~ crept over the horizon.

There, Luna beheld a sunrise of unimaginable beauty, a kaleidoscope of colors that stirred her soul. This moment of awe brought profound realisation: stars are mesmerizing, but her own world is equally splendid. Luna's story, a blend of celestial wonder and earthly beauty, became an endorance legend, inspiring everyone to appreciate the magic of both distant dreams and the beauty close at hand.

(N8) 1. Tennessee is a state located in the Eastern part of the country. Tennessee is well-known for coming up with a horse breed under the name of "Tennessee walker". These gentle giants are ~~mostly~~ intended for casual use.

2. The White House in Washington, DC has historically been the residence of the current president, which is mostly common knowledge. Another interesting fact is that American ~~teenagers~~ ⁺ teenagers have to learn all rulers by heart.

3. Texas is often associated with typical stereotypes about cowboys, rolling cactuses, guns and etc. All of that stayed in the past, obviously, but Texas is still one of the few states where you can legally carry firearms.

4. Probably everyone at some point in their lives has gotten a sudden desire to visit New York. Thankfully, the city's transportation is convenient and easy to use. ^{NY's} Underground tunnels are one of the deepest in the world!

5. South Dakota is a state northern of the center of the country. ~~which is~~ South Dakota is famous for its quantity and quality of goods that can be harvested from the rich soil underneath the surface.

(N3) There has been a speed of magazines in cities across the globe as mugs are focusing on a new item to steal - luxury coats. In recent weeks, people in London, Washington DC and other metropolitan areas have been robbed of their coats at this point. One man in Birmingham in the UK was slapped across his face as thieves made off with his jacket. Criminals are targeting coats that cost as much as $2200 ~~font~~. As well as literally stealing the coats off people's backs, thieves are breaking into people's vehicles. Professor David Wilson, a criminologist at Birmingham City University warned that the magazines were the start of a new "luxury crime trend". He said the thefts were "warning".

Professor Wilson warned those with high-end winter jackets to be careful. He said "I would tell anyone wearing Canada Goose branded jackets to be careful and beware of their surroundings and who is around you. You have to be vigilant for opportunists who may try to steal them." He added that "thieves used to target Rolex watches with ^{for} gold. Thousands of pounds and then sell them online". A London transport spokesperson said: "Canada Gas coats are targeted for robbery. It's a real concern too, as because it really impacts the safety of people on the network." He added that this "inquisitive crime" was "very concerning, intimidating and frightening".

(19) It was nearly Christmas Eve, and Arthur completely forgot to buy a present for his younger brother, John. He realised this only two hours before Christmas, while sitting in the car, watching snowflakes falling on the glass, melting immediately. Arthur exited the car in search of any shop that was still open, but to no avail: every place he tried has already ~~been~~ been empty. Mindlessly passing the streets, Arthur wondered: does John even want a present? They haven't talked much after Arthur moved out, so -

Arthur's face was met by a lamp post. He winced in pain, silently rubbing his forehead. ^{Five} ~~Five~~ minutes pass, and he hears a distant voice closely resembling John's... Lightfooted, Arthur rushed to meet him, and... It really was him! They exchanged a few awkward phrases, tension seemingly building up in the air. Arthur suggested to visit a cafeteria and order a hot drink, but John shook his head and admitted that he can't relax until he finds a present for Arthur... Turns out they both forgot their presents — what a coincidence!
