Task № 1

- 1) Mr. Gupta has changed Rohan's life by giving a simple example. The goal of his action was to show importance of each second. He persuaded Rohan to value time.
- 2) The first Rohan's step in changing his life was separating huge tasks into small pieces. Then he created his own daily routine, which include completing all of them one by one.
- 3) Completing lots of tasks, which were delayed for years, was the main change in Rohan's life. Moreover, other people started to respect him for ^{the} new lifestyle.
- 4) He came to realization that time is a limited resource. The most successful person is one who can use it correctly.
- 5) The impact of Rohan's story on the younger generation was a new understanding of time's value.
- 6) Rohan played a pivotal role in the transformation of the village.
- 7) The key message that Rohan shared with the younger generation was accepting time as a precious gift.
- 8) Countless individuals were inspired by Rohan's story. Moreover, they wanted to achieve Rohan's success, as he was respected by everyone in the village.

Task № 7.

In my answer I am going to find out what reasons person, who hate living in the countryside, might have. ~~From my point of view, it,~~

~~First of all,~~ it is a lack of communication. In the city we are always surrounded by different people. It is the fact which can put off someone's desire to leave ~~the~~ ~~city~~ it. In the countryside amount of people is not that huge. Moreover, there are usually live people who don't need to have conversation with other everyday.

Task № 8

In my work I will analyze the diagram and present my hypotheses and possible reasons for these changes.

In the beginning, I want to mention the biggest part of diagram - sleeping, which takes thirty percent. It is not surprising, because we need to do it in a physical level. It would be impossible to exist without it. The same explanation of such big category has the "eating" section. But what is interesting is the fact that teenagers spend the same amount of time as eating during their study. Nowadays, young people have to prepare for lots of things. Such as school exams, contests and olympics. Only in this case it will be possible to continue education in the famous and prestigious university. Other sections of diagram has ~~the sections equal to ten~~ percent. Teenagers ^{are} not only spending time online, but also do sports. ~~this fact can sound unacceptable for adults.~~ This diagram ~~proves~~ ^{shows} that young people take care of their health.

We can make a conclusion that teenagers develop all spheres of their life.
