Just when the demographers are ringing alarm bells about overpopulation, amazing founder Jeff Bezos says with need to populate our solar system. Mister Bezos was asked for his thoughts on humanity living in outer space in a thousand years time. He replied: "I would love to see, you know, a trillion humans living in the solar system. If we had a trillion humans, we would have at any given time 1000 Mozarts and 1000 Einsteins... space would be: full of life and intelligence and energy." He added that he wants to help "build heavy infrastructure that will be choosed by the space entrepreneurs of future generations ... so that imagination can really be unleashed.

Mister Beze's thoughts are argued by fellow multi-billioner Elon Musk, owner of ~~es~~ X (formerly known as Twitter). In 2021, he said of the human race: "We don't want to be one of those single-planet species, we want to be a multi-planet species." Earlier this year, Mister Musk warned that "Population collapse due to low birth rates is a much bigger risk to civilization than global warming ... mark these words." Mister Beze conceives of people living in giant space stations. He said most inhabitants of this would visit Earth for vacation. He envisions our planet returning to its presteam environment, as factories would be built in space. He said they would exploit resources on the Moon or on asteroids instead of choosing up Earth.

Task 4

In a vibrant coast town, Zoe, a young chef with extraordinary talent, thrived. Fascinated by exotic flavors, she dedicated her life to a creation of innovative dishes, her skills far surpassed those of her traditional colleagues.

One brisk morning, Zoe spontaneously embarked on a quest for culinary inspiration. Driven by her passion for unique ingredients, she explored local markets and remote fish villages. She wandered through bustling bazaars, her senses alighted with array of spices and fresh seafood. Her search brought her to hidden cove at dawn, right when fishermen bring in their earliest catch.

There, Zoe discovered a rare fish that had a flavor unlike anything she had ever tasted. This discovery ignited a burst of creativity: ocean's bounty was exhilarating, but ~~those~~ ^{those} were unexpected finds that truly inspired her. Zoe's culinary adventures, that blended traditional techniques with avant-garde tastes, soon became legendary, inspiring others to explore and embrace the diversity of flavors of the world.

Task 8.

1) Alaska:

Alaska used to belong to Russia until the end of 19th century when Russian emperor sold it to the USA.

It is a Beringov stream between Chukotskiy peninsula and Alaska. The temperature there can fall lower than minus 30° Celsius.

2) Michigan:

Michigan is located between two lakes, one of them is Lake Michigan - one of the biggest lakes in America. The capital city is Jefferson city, and the state is not very big itself.

3) California:

California is famous for its sunny beaches and Alcatraz - a famous prison for committers of hard crimes. The name of the state is also mentioned in a popular song "Californication".

4) Louisiana

Firstly, the name of the state has French origins, which is clear because there's "ou" syllables combo. Moreover, many films were made in Louisiana due to its beautiful landscapes.

5) Hawaii:

This state is mostly famous for The Volcanoes National Park with absolutely stunning waterfalls and for international resorts. As far as I'm concerned, there're also lots of local tribes there with their cultural sights.

Task 9.

Once upon a time, an American, whose name was John, found himself in an authentic Russian village. His private jet crashed stones thrown away from the village so he tried to seek for help, but nothing ~~looked~~ ^{was} familiar to him: weird ^{wooden} houses, freezing temperatures, ugly clothing. Obviously, John was really cold so he knocked at a random door and a nice old lady let him in.

John couldn't even imagine that people can live like that, but his main concern was to get warm.

The lady started exclaiming: "Oh how thin are you! As thin as bones! You need to eat more, silly! Come and have a seat, I'll feed you properly!" John could make out nothing, but he was ~~so~~ excited to get some food anyway. After he had tasted Russian national dishes he accidentally drank some vodka and woke up the next day. ~~John~~

John tried hard to explain what had happened to him but as there ~~was~~ ^{were} no Internet and no phones there, he had no choice but to stay in this village.

Well, years went by and John has built his own house, has learnt russian, and even managed to learn how to play on balalaika. But all this time he was dreaming of a walk along ~~california~~ sunny beaches of California, of a ~~go~~ shopping in Walmart and of a simple american burger.

This is how a misadventure turned into a new lease of life.
