Task 4.

In a vibrant coast town, Zoe, a young chef with an extraordinary talent, thrived. Fascinated by exotic flavors, she dedicated her life to creating innovated dishes, her skills far surpassing those of her traditionalist colleagues.

One brisk morning, Zoe embarked on a spontaneous quest for culinary inspiration. Driven by her passion for unique ingredients, she explored local markets and ~~for~~ remote fish villages. She wandered through bustling bazaars, her senses alighted with an array of spices and fresh sea food. Her search brought her to a hidden cove at dawn, just as the fishermen brought in their early catch.

There, Zoe discovered a rare fish, its flavor being unlike anything she had ever ~~tes~~ tasted. This discovery ignited a burst of creativity: the ocean's bounty was exhilarating, but there were unexpected finds that truly inspired her. Zoe's culinary adventures, blending traditional techniques with avant-garde tastes, soon became legendary, inspiring others to explore and embrace diverse flavors of the world.

Task 5.

3. Too processed (of food that has gone through several stages of preparation and, apparently, that is bad for one's health)

4. A person who becomes successful or popular in a certain industry (often: show-business) because of her/his parent(-s) who is (are) already well-known within this industry.

5. A character trait that can be defined as neutral, not so unusual, being something ~~is~~ between a red flag and a green flag.

2. A current phenomenon that contains such a great number of influencers that they stop having influence on social media users.

1. The well-known net of restaurants KFC was born in the state Kentucky, with the abbreviation itself decoding as "Kentucky Fried Chicken". The first restaurant in KFC's history is still there, in its homeland.
2. Alaska wasn't always the USA member, since it had been sold to the US by the Russian Emperor. By the way, Alaska cost less than the crown of Ekaterina II which she wore during her coronation.
3. California is a home for many international companies' offices, such as Apple, Google, Meta, etc. And they are here for a reason: for example, there is Stanford University, which is the best one in the whole world.
4. Most of the people who live in Louisiana have a very significant Southern accent. For instance, they have their own slang, words like ain't, y'all, and their manner of speech can be described as bumpy and cute.

Task 3.

Just when demographers are ringing alarm bells about overpopulation, amazing founder Jeph Bease says we need to populate our solar system. Mister Bease was asked for his thoughts on humanity living in outer space in a thousand years time. He replied: "a trillion humans living in the solar system. If we had a trillion humans, we would have had any governance ... space would be full of love and intelligence and energy." He added that he wants to help "build heavy infrastructure that will be just used by the space entrepreneurs of future generations... say that

Task 9.

A little duck called Little Duck had always had a dream of becoming a little swan. He heard a story like that from the boy's mama (this boy had always visited Little Duck in the evenings). He developed a whole plan on conquering the world and becoming a little swan. A bombastic plan, to put it mildly! So, Little Duck went to the forest near the place where he lived. It was just awful. Firstly, he was caught by a mouse, then by a cat, then by a dog, then again by a cat. Little Duck only wanted to be Little Swan, that's all!

But the cat didn't know anything about duck's plans. The cat wanted to eat, so he followed his dream and listened to his gut. Oh, about his guts... They didn't like the Little Duck. And do you know why? Oh, you're so silly! Because Little Duck was a rubber duck the whole time! So when the Duck ~~at~~ released himself from the cat, he was so-so happy to be ^{finally} free that he decided he was worthy being even a duck, that he was enough and that he was special and unique just the way he was and bluh-bluh-bluh. ^{if shortly} So, he decided that this precious experience ^{had} taught him a lot and went straight home ^{still} being a little duck, and not a little swan.
