They rapidly approached the ship and hijacked it. They took everyone on board as hostages, including our three heroes. Their vacation was ruined, but it was not the time to be upset - they had to do something. They tricked one of the pirates and took him down with a metal pipe. As most pirates, they were all equipped with AKs. Luckily the Russian had experience with those. He shot the pirates' boats so they would sink. Then they went to the communications room and sent an emergency signal. While they were waiting for the special forces to arrive, they had to make sure all hostages were safe. They managed to provoke the pirates into an internal conflict and while they were distracted, our heroes transferred the hostages into an engine room.
