Task 1. Вариант 1.

adult - to export, import

Task 3.

1. - true. It's true, because human activity has been major cause since the industrial age, so I can say, human actions have only recently begun influencing climate change.

2. - ~~false~~ false. It's false, because rising sea levels is the result of the carbon dioxide, warming our planet, not Earth cooling down.

3. - false. It's false, because solar power was mentioned in the text as one of the alternatives to fossil fuels, not the only one.

4. - false. It's false because trees absorb carbon dioxide when they are not cut. They don't release it into the atmosphere.

5. - true. It's true, because in the text you can find the information that choosing public transport over a personal vehicles can reduce the effect of climate change.

6. - false. It's false, because special agreements are not local, but international, besides they aim to unite countries in reducing global warming.

7. - false. It's false, because business and governments are also responsible for setting and following guidelines to curb emissions. You can find this sentence in the 4th text.

8. - true. This statement is true, because climate change has already impacted ecosystems and communities (societies) worldwide. This information you can find in the last paragraph of the text.

9. - false. This statement is false. Education on the significance of these climate issues is essential and necessary. You can find this information in the end of the text.

Task 4.

1. The rule: If - clause

My example: If you sit in front of your TV all day long, you don't get tired.

2. The rule: Past perfect Tense

My example: I had been in London before they were born.

3. The rule: Present Continuous Tense

My ~~exap~~ example: I'm reading a book now.

Task 5.

- | | |
|--------------------|--------------------|
| 1) am snowed under | 3) on the headline |
| 2) ran out of time | 4) am in the red |

Task 6.

1. c) - quote 2
2. b) - quote 1
3. a) - quote 3

Task 7.

1. King Richard → King Charles III
2. Takes a ^{huge} ~~small~~ part → the monarch takes a small part in the government's work
3. absolute monarchy → constitution monarchy
4. 250 members in the House of Lords → 100 member (2 from each state)
5. a liberal democracy → liberal and democratic parties

6. House of Parliament exercise not only the executive ~~part~~ power, but the whole power.
7. ^{members of 'the} House of Commons are elected by people, not the members of the Royal Family.
8. They are elected from every state, not from every part of the U.S. (this is about the House of Lords and Commons)
9. The House of Lords, not Commons is the real governing body of the U.S.

Task 2.

a) 1. Once upon a time I was walking along a forest path. Suddenly, I heard a lovely sound. I realised, that it was a precious bird! I was very glad to hear the wonderful song of a little bird. I was standing near the tree, where was the bird, smiling. I decided to take a photo of this fantastic little creature and then show it to my friends and family.

2. Once upon a time I was walking along a forest path. Suddenly, I noticed a strange thing. There was a lake beside the trees, and I have never seen it! I was confused and puzzled, because I liked to walk in the forest and thought I 'knew every place in there.

I came closer and looked at the lake. It was charming. I decided to go to my friend and tell him about this place.

3. One upon a time I was walking along a forest path. Suddenly, I saw a strange animal near the tree. I came closer and found that it was a wolf!

Personally, I was afraid of wolves, so I just stood and couldn't move. I was scared and wanted to leave.

I decided that I would go back in a few seconds. Wolf didn't notice me, and I returned home happy, but still a little scared.

8) In this summary I want to write about my impression of the stroll.

From my point of view, that was one of the most beautiful and unforgettable things in my life.

I really enjoyed this event and I absolutely recommend everyone to take part in it.
