Task 2.

1 variant.

Once upon a time I decided to walk along the forest path.

Walking through the plenty of trees I discovered a tiny lake. I saw some frogs and a cute little fawn sleeping next to them.

I was really happy to see animals. The atmosphere of the forest with quiet sounds of lake and insects made me calm.

Impressed by nature, I took a notebook and a pencilcase from my tote bag and started to draw a wonderful landscape.

I was amazed by this small walk along the forest path. I live in a big city and rarely visit nature places, but this day was really impressing for me. This experience helped me to clear my mind and get rid of anxiety.

Task 1.

adult, to export, import.

Task 3.

1. False, because in the text it is said, that human activity had been a major cause of the climate change since the industrial age.
