Variant 2

Task 1:

Attention, deliberate, apartment.

Task 2:

a) I was climbing a hill, suddenly I heard a whistle. I looked carefully through the trees and saw a fascinating bird. It had colourful feathers and black eyes.

At that moment I was excited and amazed by how beautiful ^{was} that bird. I have never seen such things before. I guessed, it was from exotic country.

I immediately took a photo of this wonderful animal on my phone until it flew away. The next days I rewatched that photo almost twenty times!

b) As soon as I came across that beautiful bird, I couldn't understand that it was true. I am sure, ~~that~~ it is impossible that there is more incredible animal existing. Anyone who will see it, definitely couldn't stop looking at this creature.

Task 3:

1. Not given

2. True - As we see in the text: "Greenwashing happens when people promote their products or policies as environmentally friendly, while in actual fact this isn't the case".

~~3. True - According to the text: "...many critics argue that the fashion industry's leads to more consumerism, massive use of energy and natural resources, and waste."~~

~~3~~
~~False -~~

3. True - According to the text: "...one of our main goals - to use only 100% recycled sourced materials..."

4. False - "Fast fashion", leads to more consumerism, massive use of energy and natural resources."

5. True - "This is called greenwashing, and it is very important for consumers, particularly young adults, to be aware of the practice".

6. False - "...to use only 100% recycled or other sustainably-sourced materials." Here we can see that sustainably is the same as recycled materials.

7. False - Not all but: "Most of the world's big companies now try to demonstrate that they are eco-friendly."

8. True - "By learning to recognize greenwashing, you can become a better consumer and encourage companies and governments to be more honest in their approach."

9. True - "By concentrating their marketing on some of their eco-friendly collections, manufacturers divert attention away from their other collections, that definitely are not eco friendly.

10. Not given.

Task 4:

1. The rule: conditionals

My example: If I had done all my homework on time, I would have gone to the cafe with you.

2. The rule: Past Perfect Tense

My example: She told me a story, but I had already ~~listened~~ ^{heard} it.

3. The rule: Present Continuous Tense

My example: He is always preparing for the test, that's why he got only good marks.

Task 5:

1. eat mine words

2. a hot potato

3. a black sheep

4. is giving someone a hard time

Task 6:

1. - c - Quote 3

2. - a - Quote 2

3. - b - Quote 1

Task 7:

1. "...Great Britain is governed by the monarch and the Prime Minister is a Head of State".

2. "The House of Commons is the lower chamber and the House of Lords* is upper chamber."

3. "All legislation has to be approved by everyone of the Houses of Parliament."

4. "General elections are held every four years."

5. "The government is usually formed by the political party which is supported by the majority in the House of Commons".
