Вариант 2.

Task 3.

1. False - because it is said that this term became popular in the 1980s. It means that this term had appeared ^{even} earlier.
2. True - because it is said that greenwashing is the practice, when companies pretend to be greener than they are in order to improve their image.
3. Not Given
4. False - 'fast fashion' refers to companies that concentrate their marketing on some of their eco-friendly collection and divert attention away from other not eco-friendly collections.
5. Not Given
6. Not Given
7. False - not all, but most of the world's big companies pretend ~~and~~ ^{or} try to demonstrate that they are eco-friendly by their activities.
8. True - by learning to recognize greenwashing, consumers can encourage companies and governments to be more honest in their eco-friendly approach, and help protect our planet.
9. False - companies showcase their so-called "eco-friendly" practices, often exaggerating or making false claims to attract customers, in order to increase their profits.
10. Not Given.

Task 6.

1. - a. - Quote 1

2. - c. - Quote 3

3. - b. - Quote 2

Task 2.

a) I was climbing a hill.

• Suddenly I heard a strange noise: a yell combined with a gulp. I looked at the sound's direction and saw a wee goat. It was stuck between trees' roots.

• I stopped, trying to understand what had just happened. I was bewildered and felt uneasy. On one hand, I wanted to help the poor animal, but on the other hand...

• Putting aside the second thought, I started descending to the tree. When I climbed closer, I began to rescue the animal. Once it was ~~rescued~~ free, I continued climbing a hill.

b) When I came back to climbing a hill, I couldn't help but thought about the rescued animal. My mind kept racing with assumptions about the way the goat had got stuck. I was relieved that I managed to help it, because probably I saved its life.

Task 7.

Corrected information: The House of Lords is the upper chamber and the House of Commons is the lower Chamber. The House of Lords consists of democratically elected Members of Parliament from different political parties, while most members of the House of Members are hereditary peers. Prime Minister is the majority party leader and is appointed by the monarch.
