Task 4
Paragraph 2:
Clara spent the morning wandering and dreaming about all the benefits the programme would bring, and in which ways it would alter her path, enhance her chances of getting into the prestigious universities, if she confirmed. The girl, obviously, had doubts at the back of her mind, but the decision had to be made sooner or later. So Clara tried to turn a blind eye on such thoughts and think positively instead.
Paragraph 4:
Overheard conversation did deteriorate Clara's inner avalanche of anxiety. Hectic, the girl was ready to shout at them all in one go that she deserves the participation. But she did not have enough chutzpah. Affected by a sudden tide of confidence, she had confirmed her interest, even though regretted it right after. The idea of taking someone else's place seemed ter to Clara terrifying.

Paragraph 6:

Clara must have suffered from the self-destroying thoughts suffice to turn the inner judge into an attorney. The girl realised that such opportunities are ~~one in a lifetime~~ <sup>rare</sup>, so she must not take it for granted. Later, Clara came to her classmates and straightforwardly explained to them ~~why she deserved~~ that ~~it was~~ her participation was deserved and that it was her inviolable right to make a choice. A rewarding feeling of relief came right after, and the spark in her chest appeared once again.

Task 5

- 1) Grounded, calm, involving rational thinking instead of an instant capricious reaction
- 2) A ~~series~~ series of bad or unlucky events that cannot be easily escaped, because one thing in it consequently causes another.
- 3) A tenacious ~~or stubborn~~ problem or a detail that captures all the attention, making it difficult to change the topic
- 4) Something that is hard or almost impossible to ~~accomplish~~ achieve, considering the current circumstances
- 5) The period during the very beginning of one's journey (in business, education etc.)

Task 6

- 1) I spoke to the person who was in charge
- 2) She used to hate working at weekends
- 3) ~~Her~~ His argument was so convincing that they changed ~~his~~ their minds
- 4) Guests were expected to arrive on time
- 5) The presentation had hardly finished, when the applause began
- 6) You will fail, unless you prepare adequately
- 7) ~~How calm he remained was what surprised me~~
What surprised me was how calm he remained

Task 7

- 1) ~~Newton was the one to invent the laws of motion.~~
Galileo was not the one to invent the laws of motion. Newton was.
- 2) Hawking was a theoretical physicist, so he only carried out thought experiments, not laboratory ones.
- 3) Penicillin was discovered by Alexander Fleming. Pasteur did not take part in that.
- 4) Ada did not build a computer, she wrote the first code on ~~paper~~ paper
- 5) Fleming is a scientist from England, ~~and~~ not from Scotland.
