Task 4

A: Rapid erosion is a huge problem in a lot of places, including here!

B: Really? Why could that be happening?

A: River banks are severely harmed by deforestation, among other things.

B: Rather diverse of a problem deforestation is, isn't it?

A: Reactive nature of most actions taken against it is the real problem here.

We need to prevent deforestation, instead of dealing with its consequences.

B: Ramping forest fires don't help either.

A: Right, and neither do illegal cutting operations.

Task 8

The advertisement "Reduce speed now" might be seen on entryways from a high speed road to a low speed one. If that is the case, then the advertisement must refer to the drivers that change roads, as ^{drivers} ~~they~~ are the only people who are allowed onto high speed roads, and drivers that are staying on it needn't reduce their speed. The drivers must take the advertisement into consideration because if they don't, they might get into an accident, or be fined due to exceeding the speed limit.
