Task 4.

Paragraph 2:

At first Clara wanted to turn a blind eye on this offer. If she had considered all such programmes, ^{back in time} she wouldn't have any free time now. However, there was still hesitation at the back of her mind. Her assignments have been already done and getting some new experience from the international exchange programme could benefit her sooner or later. So she decided to wait.

Paragraph 4:

After hearing this talk, Clara was on the verge of insecurity. Before she went to this school, she had done excellent in all subjects, doing everything in one go. And now she was considered just "safe" in spite of leading hectic lifestyle. It did her no good finding it out. Knowing that only one person could enroll on a programme, Clara decided to prove everybody that she was the best.

Paragraph 6.

Later one straightforward classmate ~~approached~~ ^{approached} Clara saying that his friend's dreams of attending a top university were ruined because of her. Clara understood that it must have been important for ~~somebody~~ ^{him} to get this opportunity while she took it for granted. In reality she will have accomplished her goals by now without this programme.
Getting benefit from it wasn't rewarding but selfish, so Clara finally turned down this offer.
