Task 4.

2. The sender revealed himself to be an old classmate of Oliver's from high school, always in his element. He personally offered Oliver a deal that's given once in a blue moon: if Oliver left his current job, he would have joined a team at a new company and become their head designer. Oliver was offered a sizeable salary, which had become the final straw to sow doubt in his mind.

4. The doubts constantly haunted him, as if stuck between a rock and a hard place. He was already trying to make ends meet, a lifestyle he perceived as pathetic. However, he then asked himself: have I truly been doing what I want, being fine with my current job and life, by and large? He decided that it's time to change.

5. He was convinced he wasted his life away. He thought he could have been rich and happy had he accepted earlier. However, as the meeting went on, the classmate started acting posh, frustrating Oliver. It seemed as if they're trying to take advantage of his doubts. As reluctant as he was, Oliver declined the offer and left, a weight lifted from his shoulders.
Task 5.
