Paragraph 2: Oliver did realise that such an opportunity comes once in a blue moon. Besides that, his current position did not suit him perfectly. Even though he liked keeping his options safe, it felt like the time to stop being in one's element had come. His new boss & with unrealistic work hours regulations seemed to be the final straw in this whole situation.

Paragraph 4: The life of Oliver did look pathetic in certain aspects. His salary was stable, yet little did he know about career growth or any appreciation of his efforts as a worker. ^{What's more} ~~Despite that~~, he did have a clear understanding that his time, ideas and loyalty by and large were not valued. It was the time to make a change for his future success.

Paragraph 6: After the meeting Oliver had mixed impressions. He could have given the answer right away, but the idea of significant change scared him greatly. He understood that his current boss took advantage of him, that the possibilities his current position offered were poor, that many things surrounding him were reluctant. So after this analysis of both advantages and disadvantages, Oliver made up his mind. He will accept the offer.
