TASK 8.

Nowadays, the speed of life has increased catastrophically. Without a doubt, never had the world been changing so fast. Hence, every resource of information, the entire media should spread the advertisement "Reduce speed now". Unfortunately, current generation is living in a state of constant changes. Not only does that deprives youth and children of stable ground, but also leaves them without an understanding what future they should expect, raising an anxiety rate ~~awfully~~ awfully high. Perhaps, ~~if~~ if people took the idea into consideration, they would suggest new way of living, creating a happier world.
