task 4

2) When Oliver opened the email, he was shocked. It was an invitation to join team as Elon Musk's manager.

Oliver knew that he could receive such opportunity once in a blue moon. If someone had told him that he'd be given this chance, he wouldn't have believed it. The man never thought he'd be in team's element. Normally, he'd decline this offer but this email became the final straw.

4) Oliver has been thinking about the email all night long. He brainstormed every event that could go wrong.

What if his new colleagues would consider him pathetic due to his ~~the~~ habit of following the rules? On the other hand, ~~the~~ joining this team would mean that he could finally make ends meet. By and large, he kept on considering all pros and cons.

6) The meeting went on unexpectedly peaceful. Every member on the team greeted Oliver warmly. At first, he was scared that others would make fun of his posh accent but no one pointed it out. "Why are you always ~~thinking~~ considering the negative outcome only?" - Oliver mentally scolded himself. By the end of the meeting, he realised that he definitely should take advantage of this offer and join the team. If only he could overcome his mental barriers earlier!
