Task 4

② Even though Clara was happy that she has been added to this group, at the back of her mind she was sceptical. Clara couldn't turn a blind eye to it, so she decided to look it up. "If I had had such a chance, I would have joined!" that was what the welcome message was saying. Sooner or later, she had to decide on that.

④ Clara did think about this decision very carefully and with hectic interest accepted the programme in one go. On the verge of this, everything had had changed. She went to school, but her classmates weren't as friendly as they used to be and later everything became even worse. Clara has noticed firstly the slight change, but then the news became widespread, which turned everything into a chaos.

⑥ She started to think that she must have declined the offer, but she understood that this opportunity can be once in a lifetime, so she never assumed to take it for granted. She went straightforward to the principal to solve the problem, where Clara explained that she would have considered this rewarding experience and that it's really important for her. The principal promised to solve the problem.
