Task ⑧

I am going to comment on an advertisement. The advertisement is called "Reduce Speed Now". Personally, I think that this advertisement can be found near highways or in large cities. The aforementioned advertisement might refer to people that frequently speed. Speeding accidents can become extremely fatal, especially in urban areas, where speed is usually limited to twenty kilometers per hour. People might take this advertisement into consideration because speeding can potentially end their lives, as previously mentioned. That's all I wanted to say.
