Task 4.

Paragraph 2:

He had always been in his element working in the office, though he adored mountains. He knew he would never be able to study mountains professionally, but he had dreamed to. He felt the happiest when, once in a blue moon, he got a chance to rock climb. The unexpected email was a job offer for a technician for expeditions from a mountain research company. Was this Oliver's ~~last straw~~? final straw?

Paragraph 4:

~~The~~ ~~whole~~ He had been thinking about the offer the whole time. He was scared not only by the thought of struggling to make ends meet due to ~~the~~ the low salary the company had offered, but leaving his job and ~~stability~~ seemed terrifying as well. The risk was by and large. He felt pathetic for struggling to make a decision.

Paragraph 6:

Oliver could not believe what he agreed to. The people at the office seemed posh, making him reluctant to agree to the offer. He could refuse the job and enjoy his peaceful life.

"What am I even doing?" - he said in despair. However, after thinking for some time, Oliver decided to take advantage of the opportunity as one has to try everything that life gives them.

Task 5.

1. Busybody - someone who spreads gossip and tries to learn information that is meant to be private.
2. To be poised to do something - to be ready to take action or to have a high chance of something happening.
3. To agree to disagree - the point of an argument when both sides realize they won't agree with each other and the discussion stops.
4. Sluggish - something ~~is~~ is slow or acts/behaves unsurely like something is stopping it from functioning normally.
5. To pan out - the outcome of a situation, the result of a problem when it is yet unknown how everything will turn out.
