I would like to comment on advertisement number two "Sport shoes are required". I believe you might see this advertisement in a gym.

The advertisement might refer to regular visitors of the gym or people considering coming.

I think that there are two main reasons why people might take into consideration the advertisement. Firstly, exercising in the gym without sport shoes and other proper clothing can be quite dangerous, not to mention extremely uncomfortable. And secondly, the gym itself may not allow entrance without proper footwear.
