Breakfasts are now being served, is an advertisement which can be seen in a lot of places such as a local café, a restaurant or a small diner. Usually this kind of advertisements try to attract working people who are constantly busy so they can't cook for themselves or families which can visit it on weekends or special ~~seasons~~ occasions. People can take this advertisement into consideration because this establishment can be close to their house, it can be cheaper than the others or it can be new, so people might consider trying out their breakfasts out of curiosity.
