Task 4

Paragraph 2:

After this sudden event Clara started texting other people asked to the group wondering if anyone had a clue on what was going on in case that sooner or later she would get an answer. „Someone must have some thoughts on the back of his mind“ - she thought to herself. But it seemed like everyone turned a blind eye on her messages.

Paragraph 4:

However, Clara decided to not let this opportunity slip away from her hands. As she was on the verge of deadline she needed to prove that she is the one to go abroad in one go, right here and right now. She started drastically improving her academic results and participating in any school activity possible. She was soon labeled a showoff by her fellow students for wanting to widen her horizons and be the best of the best.

Paragraph 6:

Later this week Clara was confronted by students from rich families, who also wanted to study abroad but did not put any effort into it. Clara on the other hand, was not a girl who takes everything for granted. She had a straightforward approach to the desired result. After all, it was rewarding to have a proper chocolate gelato nearby the Botologna university, her new place of studying.
