Task 4.

Paragraph 2

Next day Clara made a mistake while writing a test, but her teacher ~~just~~ just turned a blind eye. However, the girl would have got a better result if she had more time to ~~get~~ get ready. Clara kept returning to the programme at the back of her mind. Different cultures have been studied by her classmates, many students would find the international exchange programme interesting sooner or later.

Paragraph 4

That sarcastic remark left Clara on the verge of tears. She had helped others with their homework, but her classmates had not treated her with respect. That fact made Clara feel lonely. When the girl returned home, she finished her projects in one go because a hectic research was enough for her. Later Clara decided, she deserved better and she did accept the offer.

Paragraph 6

Clara thought she must have made a mistake regarding the international exchange programme. A few days later she came ~~to school and went~~ to her classroom. There the girl explained straightforward to other students that she had never taken anything for granted. Clara had to work hard and to learn a lot of material for her new projects. A year later the girl will have left her school for university.
