Task 8.

2) „Reduce speed now”.

This is a social advertisement. I might see it while driving a car in the city. I usually see advertisements like that in the area I live. It might refer to the drivers who forget or just don't care about the speed limit. Advertisements like this usually have pictures of possible accidents to have bigger influence. I don't know the statistics, but I think they're helpful. It's very important to place such social advertisements near the roads with big traffic and, to be true, near all the roads in the world.
