Task 4.

Paragraph 2.

Had Clara really applied for this program, she would've ~~is~~ instantly accepted the invitation. However, something has been bothering her. Nevertheless, Clara turned a blind eye to this idea at the back of her head and, thinking she'd accept it sooner or later anyways, answered the e-mail. Initially not thinking much of it, she pressed the big green button and carried on with her day.

Task 4.

Paragraph 4.

It had been obvious for Clara that ^{most} both of her classmates envied her, ~~naturally, she did~~ because though only naturally, because she did accept the invitation ^{in one go} and was walking around the school on the verge of ecstatic hysteria. However, the hectic thing with her classmates really, really bothered her, and therefore the euphoria slowly faded away ~~wore off~~, and what was left ~~was~~ were ~~remnant~~ concerns and fears.

Task 4.

Paragraph 6.

Despite all of Clara's attempt to ^{straight forward} ~~smash~~ the ^{ban} gossip ~~down~~ and ~~to~~ stop the rumours from spreading, she understood that they will have reached the entire ^{town} school in no longer than two days. Trying desperately to get away from all the hate and special treatment, she ^{must've gone} ~~went~~ to a different school, a rewarding one which didn't take her for granted, and left the public eye.

Task 5.

- 1) level-headed - ~~supremely calm~~, able to maintain focus and ^{attention} ~~seriousness~~ regardless of ~~the pain or~~ emotions such as fear.
- 2) vicious circle - a sequence of events, most often or almost always negative ones, usually worsening ~~as~~ along the way.
- 3) big bear - a perpetuating problem which is difficult to diminish or solve.
- 4) a tall order - a difficult or nearly impossible task or challenge, especially when applied in ^{specific} exceptional circumstances
- 5) keystone - the origins or early beginnings of any entity, especially in the corporate world.

Task 6.

1. I spoke to the person who was in charge.
2. She would hate to work at the weekends.
3. His argument was so convincing that ~~he~~ ^{they} changed ~~his~~ their mind.
4. Guests are expected to arrive on time.
5. The applause had hardly finished when the presentation began.
6. You will fail unless you prepare adequately.
7. He was surprised at how calm I remained.

Task 7.

1. Galileo only improved the laws of motion, but he invented the telescope.
2. He never ~~it~~ carried out such experiments, ~~or~~ instead, he created his own formula.
3. He didn't discover penicillin, he just improved sanitary norms.
4. She didn't create a fully functional computer, but she created a computational engine.
5. He wasn't developing a vaccine, he just forgot to clean a glass ~~with~~ surface.
