Task 4.

(paragraph 2)

It was an offer to become a nuclear physicist and even ~~to~~ launch his own rocket... once in a blue moon. The employer was aware that Oliver had had previous experience in the field before becoming an office clerk. If he hadn't done that apprenticeship, he ~~wouldn't~~ wouldn't have received this offer. Oliver was confident in his knowledge of physics - he was in his element. A pleasant salary was the ~~last~~ ~~final~~ final straw.

(paragraph 4)

Hardly had Oliver touched the pillow, when his phone rang. These were his potential colleagues, "Good evening! We have been working on this project for a long time and we need a new approach!" Despite this offer appearing by and large in Oliver's life, he felt pathetic at his current position. Moreover, if he wanted to obtain a new car, he would face difficulties making ends meet.

(paragraph 6)

Oliver was that kind of people who lived according to timetables and avoided novelties at all costs. He felt reluctant at first and a thought crossed his mind, "If only I could never open this offer and lead my usual life! Why is everything changing so fast?!" However afterwards Oliver decided to take advantage of this opportunity and see how it unfolds. The next morning he stepped into his posh office.

Task 5

1. A person who always tries to drop an ear on other people and get involved in their business.
2. To be about to do something you want to or something predetermined.

3. To fail to reach a compromise and continue believing in your initial ideas without arguing anymore.
4. Too slow and incoordinate, struggling to make any notable improvements, contrary to rapid or productive.
5. To turn out, to give certain results, for situation to come to its final stage.

Task 6.

1. She has never experienced such pressure before.
2. I should have told you earlier.
3. It was his honesty that impressed me.
4. Had she known the truth, she would have reacted differently.
5. The plan is believed to be unrealistic.
6. Although he was exhausted, he kept working.
7. Such a complicated task it was, that few completed it.

Task 7.

1. Not Isaac Newton, but Charles Darwin ~~invented~~ proposed a theory of evolution by natural selection.
2. Albert Einstein basically has nothing to do with DNA structure being discovered.

3. Actually, it was Alexander Bell who invented the first telephone, not Madam Curie, nor her husband.
4. Isaac Newton is believed to be the first scientist to discover gravity, not Charles Darwin.
5. The first steam engine is the work of James Watt, not of Nikola Tesla.
